

Hello,

I would like to thank to all who are writing on this forum and to thank "devotees" 1,2,3,4,5,6 for their courage and honesty .

I don't feel like explaining in many details but I came to the point that it is important to me to open up and tell here that I was once with swAmi in his bedroom. He made me to do "the b...w job" (oral sex). Maybe because it happened only once and I didn't know about such other cases I didn't talk about it to anybody. Of course I was very confused and in a way I am still now, but now I know - that was not "guru's leela" but abuse.

While reading testimonies on web site <http://sites.google.com/site/paramliar/> I've recognized very same details that I saw or went through. Once swaAmi grabbed my breast and squeezed it so strongly that I felt an awful pain (the same thing wrote devotee 3). On another occasion I saw one young disciple licking swAmi's fingers. That was so inappropriate; actually I see all this as very sick and so difficult to "digest" mentally and emotionally.

I would like to invite all ex or those who are still swAmi's disciples to write about their experiences. You can explain it with as less or as many details that you feel. You can stay anonymous as I wish to stay but I think that it will help if we speak out.
